INTERACTIVE DIGITAL BOOK

Dání Dene Nené Həjł / How Our Land Sings

Délíne Həjł, Godi, Náogeye / Délíne Songs, Stories, and Games

NICOLE BEAUDRY with MICHAEL NEYELLE, ALINA TAKAZO, and LAURA TUTCHO

Foreword by WALTER BEZHA

This interactive digital book shares and examines the singing, dancing, and drumming traditions of Délíne, a Dene community in the Sahtú region of the Northwest Territories. Central to the book are 137 audio recordings featuring approximately 150 different songs, in which Elders describe in their own language, and in their traditional storytelling style, how songs, dances, and games have been part of a lifestyle rooted to the land.

17 chapters; 200,000 words; 137 audio recordings (including musical notation, transcripts, and translations); 70 colour and B&W photographs; 25 colour and B&W illustrations; 1 map; notes; bibliography; appendices
