Call for Manuscripts

Why Publish with James Currey?

James Currey publishes books by many of the leading figures in African Studies as well as first-time authors. On submission your proposal and manuscript will receive attention from an editorial team committed to African Studies and will benefit from peer review by area specialists. On publication your book will be marketed by a team with long experience in the Africanist and African academic book market. We are dedicated to distributing books about Africa in Africa and have long been noted for co-publication with African co-publishers to make the books more affordable. This policy continues with Boydell & Brewer, wherever possible working with African publishers, or selling cheaper editions under own imprint through our Africa reps. New titles in the James Currey imprint now also benefit from the Boydell & Brewer global marketing network, covering the Americas, Europe, Asia and Australia.

Book Proposal Guidelines

In the first instance, complete our proposal form available on the James Currey website (<https://boydellandbrewer.com/jc-prospective-authors>) or send us brief details, including a synopsis of the main argument and objectives of the work, estimated word length, intended readership and a contents list, and a short CV. Please do not send email attachments of chapters or whole manuscripts unless requested to do so. As a matter of policy, we do not consider proposals under review by other publishers.
