MEDIEVAL ARMS AND ARMOUR: A SOURCEBOOK. VOLUME III: 1450-1500

RALPH MOFFAT

Authoritative reference guide, using the documents in which arms and armour first appeared to explain and define them.

Over seventy original documents are transcribed and translated, including wills, inventories, letters and chronicle accounts, from a period which saw rapid advances in military technology. The book also includes an extensive glossary, lavishly illustrated with forty images of extant armour and weapons from the period, and contemporary artistic depictions from illuminated manuscripts and other sources.

REWRITING THE FIRST CRUSADE

Epistolary Culture in the Middle Ages

THOMAS W. SMITH

An exploration of the letters from the First Crusade, yielding evidence for a number of reinterpretations of the movement.

Grounded on extensive research into the original manuscripts, and presenting numerous new manuscript witnesses, this book argues that some letters from the first crusade are post hoc "inventions", composed by generations of scribe-readers who visited crusading sites from the twelfth century on. Drawing upon this new understanding, and blurring the distinction of epistolary "reality", it rewrites central aspects of the history of the First Crusade, considering the documents in a new way: as markers of enthusiasm and support for the crusade movement among monastic clergy, who copied and consumed them as a form of scribal crusading.

THE MEDIEVAL PIG

DOLLY JØRGENSEN

Examines the role of the pig in medieval society in material and textual sources.

Considers pigs in medieval Europe from a number of angles: whether part of the countryside, the cityscape, on the plate or in the mind. Drawing on a rich wealth of sources, both textual and material, it examines in particular the paradoxes that the pig presented: both good and bad, fecund/fornicator, noble/filthy. It uncovers the pig's numerous roles in medieval society, how pigs shaped human life, and how humans shaped theirs.

BLACK WOMAN ON BOARD

Claudia Hampton, the California State University, and the Fight to Save Affirmative Action

DONNA J. NICOL

Offers a rare view inside the university boardroom, to show the vital role Black women educational leaders played in ensuring access and equity for all.

Tells the extraordinary story of Dr Claudia H. Hampton, the California State University (CSU) system's first Black woman trustee, who later became the board's first woman chair, and her twenty-year fight (1974–94) to increase access within the CSU for historically marginalized and underrepresented groups. Amid a growing white backlash against changes brought on by the 1960s Civil Rights and Black Power Movements, Nicol argues that Hampton enacted "sly civility" to persuade fellow trustees, CSU system officials, and state lawmakers to enforce federal and state affirmative action mandates.

THE BRITISH COUNTRY HOUSE REVIVAL

BEN COWELL

Explore the contributions of British country houses to the nation's cultural life since their early 1970s renaissance.

Traces the history of country houses in Britain, from the Victoria & Albert Museum's exhibition The Destruction of the Country House to the present day. Over the following decades Britain's country houses experienced a renaissance. This was achieved only after dedicated campaigning from heritage organisations. The book argues that a new accord is needed today, to recognise the increasingly contested contribution of country houses to British life and culture in the 21st century.

JANE AUSTEN, SEX, AND ROMANCE

Engaging with Desire in the Novels and Beyond

EDITED BY NORA NACHUMI AND STEPHANIE OPPENHEIM Edited by NORA NACHUMI, STEPHANIE OPPENHEIM

Brings together writers from diverse worlds to explore how Austen's readers experience and process her novels' erotic power.

The topic of sex in Jane Austen's novels is a powder keg that ignites furious debate among Austen's admirers. In this collection of essays, scholars, writers, critics, filmmakers, and authors of internet content explore the desires that permeate Austen's novels and the creations and conversations they inspire. Building on new fields connecting literary and popular culture, the book enables a dynamic exchange among different voices, enriching our understanding of all things Austen.

THE AFRICAN CHARTER ON HUMAN AND PEOPLES' RIGHTS VOLUME 2

The Political Process
NAT RUBNER

Documents the international community's attempts to foist a human rights system upon Africa and how the OAU created its own.

A comprehensive account of the development of the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights. Volume 2 describes the process through which the ACHPR came into being. It shows that the influence of Western governments, the UN and NGOs was limited and at times counter-productive. That, in fact, the formulation of the ACHPR was a profoundly political process that was primarily a product of an African desire to instigate its own human rights perspective.

MUSIC IN EDWARDIAN LONDON

SIMON MCVEIGH

Traversing London's musical culture, this book boldly illuminates the emergence of Edwardian London as a beacon of musical innovation.

A new century saw London emerge as a hub in a fast-developing global music industry. It was a period of expansion, experiment and entrepreneurial energy. The book envisions a burgeoning urban culture through a series of snapshots - daily musical life in all its messy diversity. While tackling themes of cosmopolitanism and nationalism, high and low brows, centres and peripheries, it evokes contemporary voices and characterful individuals to illuminate the period.
