BROOKLINE | books

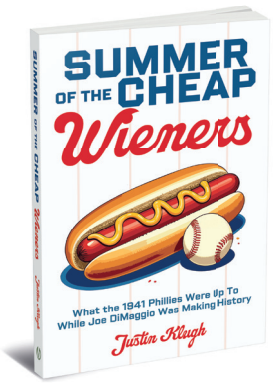

Killer in the House: Ten Days of Terror in a Pennsylvania Suburb

Kathryn Canavan | https://www.kathryncanavan.com

Kathryn's topics of expertise include:

- Journalism career
- Investigating the Abt family murders
- True Crime

Kathryn is available for speaking events throughout Delaware and up through Bucks County, as well as virtual talks and podcasting appearances.

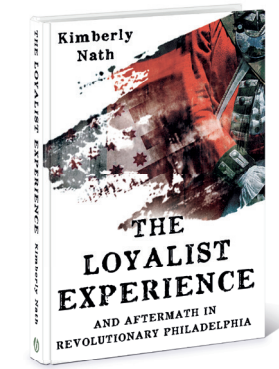

Summer of the Cheap Wieners: What the 1941 Phillies Were Up To While Joe DiMaggio Was Making History

Justin Klugh | https://justinklugh.journoportfolio.com

Justin's topics of expertise include:

- Baseball history
- Any & everything Phillies related
- Sports features & article writing

Justin is available for speaking events from Baltimore to Philadelphia, as well as virtual and podcasting appearances. You can browse his writing portfolio at his personal website address above.

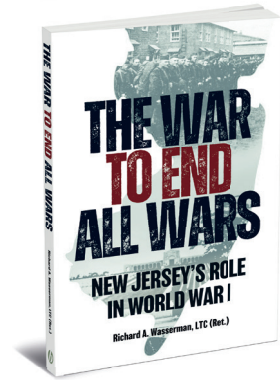

The Loyalist Experience and Aftermath in Revolutionary Philadelphia

Kimberly Nath | https://www.linkedin.com/in/kimberly-nath-8b0583360

Kimberly's topics of expertise include:

- The American Revolution
- Loyalists & the aftermath of the revolution
- Higher education & curriculum development

Kimberly is available for virtual speaking engagements and interviews. She is currently the Dean of the School of Arts and Humanities at San Juan College.

The War to End All Wars: New Jersey's Role in World War I

Richard A. Wasserman, LTC (Ret) | https://www.linkedin.com/in/dr-richard-wasserman-ltc-r-d-litt-33625a238

Richard's topics of expertise include:

- New Jersey history
- New Jersey's efforts & impact during World War I

Richard is a New Jersey native who is available for speaking engagements in the area and virtual guest appearances to discuss all things New Jersey! He served in the Army Reserve and National Guard for 40 years, having been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, and Combat Action Badge.

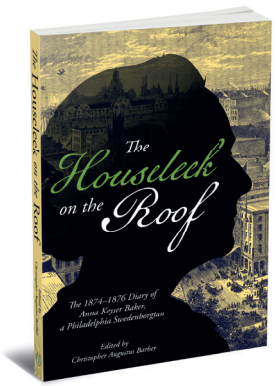

The Artist and His Museum: Charles Willson Peale and the First Public Museum in the United States

Diane Webber | MFA in Writing for Children & Young Adults in Creative Nonfiction, Spalding University

Diane's topics of expertise include:

- Charles Willson Peale
- Museum collections & curation
- Children & YA Creative Nonfiction writing

Diane is available for speaking engagements around the Philadelphia area and virtual appearances.

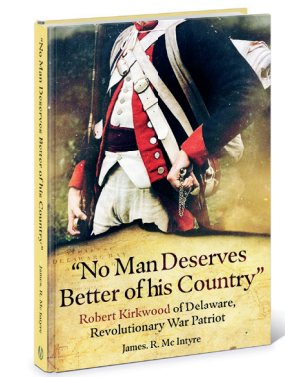

The Houseleek on the Roof: The 1874–1876 Diary of Anna Keyser Baker, a Philadelphia Swedenborgian

Christopher Augustus Barber | https://independent.academia.edu/ChristopherBarber28

Chris' topics of expertise include:

- Swedenborgian theology
- New Church history & doctrinal studies
- 19th Century Philadelphia history

Reverend Barber is currently the VP of the Swedenborg Foundation and is available for speaking engagements throughout the Philadelphia area as well as virtual appearances.

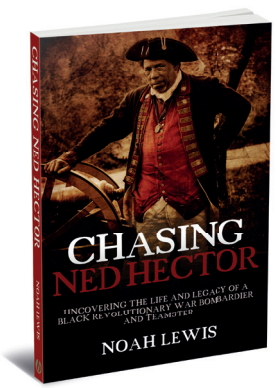

"No Man Deserves Better of His Country" Robert Kirkwood of Delaware, Revolutionary War Patriot

James Mc Intyre | https://philadelphiaencyclopedia.org/authors/james-r-mcintyre

Jim's topics of expertise include:

- 18th Century America
- Seven Years War & The American Revolution

James currently teaches History at Moraine Valley Community College near Chicago and serves as a Fleet Professor in the United States Naval War College's College of Distance Education, Strategy and War Department and in the Naval Command and Staff online program. In addition, he is the editor of the Journal of the Seven Years War Association.

Chasing Ned Hector: Uncovering the Life and Legacy of a Black Revolutionary War Bombardier and Teamster

Noah Lewis | https://nedhector.com

Noah's topics of expertise include:

- Ned Hector & The American Revolution
- Black colonial life, rights & slavery

Noah has created a page for educators on his personal site address listed above, which includes the full range of his presentation topics. He has been a staple in public engagement for Revolutionary Era history and reenactments throughout the Greater Delaware Valley.

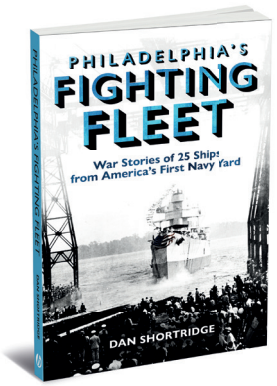

What If? Answering the Biggest Unanswered Questions in Philadelphia Sports History

Joseph Giglio | https://joe-giglio-sports.beehiiv.com

Joe's topics of expertise include:

- Sports radio broadcasting
- Any & everything related to Philly sports

Joe is the show host for WIP Midday Show and its corresponding daily podcast. Please reach out to Brookline Books for availability and guest appearances related to book marketing and sporting events.

Philadelphia's Fighting Fleet: War Stories of 25 Ships from America's First Navy Yard

Dan Shortridge | https://www.danshortridge.com

Dan's topics of expertise include:

- Delaware's hidden history & secret stories
- America's Navy & Philadelphia ship-building
- PR, communications & nonprofit storytelling

Dan is available for speaking engagements throughout the Philadelphia area as well as virtual events and podcast appearances. A full list of his presentation topics can be found at his personal website address listed above.