1.) Aim and Scope:
   a. Old Testament Abstracts features abstracts for journal articles, monographs, multi-author works and software related to Old Testament studies. Both the article and book abstracts are organized by themes, such as the Ancient Near East, literary forms, and biblical theology. Established in 1978, the journal provides summaries and bibliographical information of articles and books written in all major languages. Old Testament Abstracts is published by The Catholic Biblical Association of America.

2.) Peer review process
   a. Old Testament Abstracts publishes abstracts; as such, a peer review process is not relevant.

3.) ISSN
   a. ISSN: 0364-8591
   b. eISSN: 2639-2003

4.) Ownership and Management

5.) Editorial board:
   a. Editors
      i. Christopher T. Begg (General Editor) (The Catholic University of America)
      ii. Joseph E. Jensen (Assistant General Editor) (Georgetown University)
      iii. Archie Wright (Managing Editor) (The Catholic University of America)
      iv. Edward M. Cook (Assistant Managing Editor) (The Catholic University of America)
   b. Associate Editors
      i. Carol J. Dempsey, O.P. (University of Portland)
      ii. Bradley C. Gregory (The Catholic University of America)
      iii. Katherine M. Hayes (Seminary of the Immaculate Conception)
      iv. Thomas Hieke (Universität Mainz)
      v. Isaac Kalimi (Universität Mainz)
      vi. Kathleen M. O’Connor (Columbia Theological Seminary)
      vii. John T. Willis (Abilene Christian University)

6.) Ethics and Complaints Policy
   a. The ethical guidelines for Old Testament Abstracts are based on COPE’s Best Practice Guidelines for Journal Editors. (Please note that due to the nature of OTA, there are no peer reviewers or authors, and some editorial duties also are not applicable in this instance.)
   b. Editor’s Duties:
i. To monitor the peer-review process and maintain the anonymity of reviewers (as regards the specific evaluated article).

ii. To avoid conflicts of interest.

iii. To avoid discrimination based on gender, religious or political beliefs, or nationality with respect to articles either accepted or rejected.

iv. To inform the publisher in cases of plagiarism and violation of copyright.

v. To publish retractions or corrections in the case of mistakes, conflicts of interest, or plagiarism.

vi. To take reasonable steps to avoid plagiarism, and to exercise the necessary control on the content of the journal in order to prevent criminal offenses.

vii. To refrain from disclosing information about a submitted manuscript to unauthorized individuals.

viii. To refrain from using unpublished materials disclosed in a submitted manuscript in the editors’ own research without the written consent of the author.

c. Peer Reviewer’s Duties (Not Applicable):

i. To identify relevant published work not cited by the authors, and to make helpful suggestions to the authors for revisions to the text.

ii. To review the articles in a timely manner.

iii. To remain objective in their reviews.

iv. To disclose and decline to review any manuscript in which they have, or suspect they have, a conflict of interest with the author, company, or any institution otherwise connected to the manuscript.

v. To treat all received manuscripts as confidential documents, and to refrain from showing them to, or discussing them with, individuals not authorized by the editorial board.

d. Author’s Duties (Not Applicable):

i. To ensure that all articles submitted are original, unpublished, and not submitted simultaneously to other journals.

ii. To accept the results of the peer review process.

iii. To acknowledge, should the article be accepted for publication, the copyright terms as set out by the publisher.

iv. To declare possible conflicts of interest which may be seen as having influenced the manuscript.

v. To disclose all sources of financial support for the manuscript.

vi. To properly cite the sources of information within the manuscript, to obtain permissions for images or other content in accordance with copyright law, and to otherwise avoid acts of plagiarism or copyright infringement.

vii. To refrain from knowingly misrepresenting themselves or their manuscript.

viii. To present only authentic data, and objective interpretations of that data, within the manuscript.
ix. To immediately notify the editors should the author become aware of any serious error(s) in the manuscript and provide the editors with retractions or corrections to repair the error(s).

7.) Copyright
   a. Copyright to the individual articles and of the journal as a whole will remain with the Association; the Association will grant permission according to its reprint policy for any reasonable use to individual authors of articles upon the individual author's request.

8.) Access
   a. The journal is available in print and online for subscribers. Individual issues are available for purchase in print or electronic form.

9.) Revenue Sources
   a. The sole sources of income for Old Testament Abstracts are subscriptions and advertising revenue.

10.) Advertising
   a. Advertising decisions for the journal are made by the Catholic Biblical Association and the Catholic University of America Press. These decisions are not related in any way to editorial decision making and are kept separate from the published content.