1.) Aim and Scope:
   a. The St. Nersess Theological Review (SNTR) is the only English language academic journal dedicated to the study of Armenian Christianity. It is the scholarly publication of St. Nersess Armenian Seminary, the only Armenian Christian seminary in the Western hemisphere. SNTR publishes peer-reviewed articles that span a wide historical and disciplinary range, from critical engagement with the earliest Armenian Christian texts to sociological studies of contemporary Armenian Christian communities. Dedicated to fostering a worldwide Armenian theological conversation, each issue includes original research articles, at least one translation from a “modern classic” of Armenian theological writing, and one new work from a theologian based in Armenia or whose primary language of scholarship is Armenian. In this way, the journal makes important research on Armenian Christianity available to a diverse scholarly audience working in fields such as Patristics, the Sociology of Religion, Middle Eastern Studies, and the History of Christianity.

2.) Peer review process

3.) ISSN
   a. ISSN: 1086-2080
   b. eISSN: 2835-0359

4.) Ownership and Management
   a. The St. Nersess Theological Review is owned by The St. Nersess Armenian Seminary. It is published by The Catholic University of America Press.

5.) Editorial board:
   a. Editors
      i. Dr. Christopher Sheklian (Editor, Radboud University)
      ii. Dr. Jesse Arlen (Associate Editor, Zohrab Information Center/Fordham University)
      iii. Dr. Roberta Ervine (Associate Editor, St. Nersess Armenian Seminary)
      iv. Julia Hintlian (Associate Editor, Harvard University)
      v. Yervant Kutchukian (University of Oxford/St. Nersess Armenian Seminary)
   b. Editorial Board
      i. Very Rev. Fr. Archimandrite Garegin Hambardzumyan (Mother See of Holy Etchmiadzin)
      ii. Dr. Sergio La Porta (California State University, Fresno)
      iii. Dr. Christina Maranci (Harvard University)
      iv. Arpi Nakashian (Radboud University)
      v. Dr. Michael Papazian (Berry College)
      vi. Dr. Ani Shahinian (University of Oxford)
6.) Ethics and Complaints Policy

a. The ethical guidelines for The St. Nersess Theological Review are based on COPE’s Best Practice Guidelines for Journal Editors.

b. Editor’s Duties:
   i. To monitor the peer-review process and maintain the anonymity of reviewers (as regards the specific evaluated article).
   ii. To avoid conflicts of interest.
   iii. To avoid discrimination based on gender, religious or political beliefs, or nationality with respect to articles either accepted or rejected.
   iv. To inform the publisher in cases of plagiarism and violation of copyright.
   v. To publish retractions or corrections in the case of mistakes, conflicts of interest, or plagiarism.
   vi. To take reasonable steps to avoid plagiarism, and to exercise the necessary control on the content of the journal in order to prevent criminal offenses.
   vii. To refrain from disclosing information about a submitted manuscript to unauthorized individuals.
   viii. To refrain from using unpublished materials disclosed in a submitted manuscript in the editors’ own research without the written consent of the author.

c. Peer Reviewer’s Duties:
   i. To identify relevant published work not cited by the authors, and to make helpful suggestions to the authors for revisions to the text.
   ii. To review the articles in a timely manner.
   iii. To remain objective in their reviews.
   iv. To disclose and decline to review any manuscript in which they have, or suspect they have, a conflict of interest with the author, company, or any institution otherwise connected to the manuscript.
   v. To treat all received manuscripts as confidential documents, and to refrain from showing them to, or discussing them with, individuals not authorized by the editorial board.

d. Author’s Duties
   i. To ensure that all articles submitted are original, unpublished, and not submitted simultaneously to other journals.
   ii. To accept the results of the peer review process.
   iii. To acknowledge, should the article be accepted for publication, the copyright terms as set out by the publisher.
   iv. To declare possible conflicts of interest which may be seen as having influenced the manuscript.
   v. To disclose all sources of financial support for the manuscript.
   vi. To properly cite the sources of information within the manuscript, to obtain permissions for images or other content in accordance with copyright law, and to otherwise avoid acts of plagiarism or copyright infringement.
vii. To refrain from knowingly misrepresenting themselves or their manuscript.

viii. To present only authentic data, and objective interpretations of that data, within the manuscript.

ix. To immediately notify the editors should the author become aware of any serious error(s) in the manuscript and provide the editors with retractions or corrections to repair the error(s).

7.) Copyright
   a. Copyright to the individual articles will remain with the individual contributors, whereas the copyright of the Journal as a whole will reside with the Press.
   b. The journal is available in print and online for subscribers. Individual issues are available for purchase in print or electronic form.

8.) Revenue Sources
   a. The sole sources of income for The St. Nersess Theological Review are subscriptions and advertising revenue.

9.) Advertising
   a. Advertising decisions for the journal are made jointly by the Catholic University of America Press and the Seminary. These decisions are not related in any way to editorial decision making and are kept separate from the published content.