

Innovative Inventions

Violet is able to use materials at hand to create inventions to help her and her siblings escape difficult situations. Now it's your turn.

You are out rafting with some friends when suddenly a strong wind pulls you off course. You crash into a deserted island, damaging your raft and leaving you stranded and desperate to get back to the mainland. Using the space below, describe or draw an invention that will help you survive this dire situation. You can use only the materials that you have on you now and those you would find on a deserted island.
