Author Kerry McDonald Reveals Humanity Is Ready for Alien Contact in New Sci-Fi Thriller

A thrilling adaptation of the literary classic, Green Mansions

JAMUL, CA (January 2021)—Set under the lush canopy of a Central American jungle, author Kerry McDonald's new sci-fi thriller, The Green Cathedral, follows a corrupt DEA agent and his transformative relationship with an otherworldly being. Inspired by the literary classic, Green Mansions, by W.H. Hudson, this reimagining is supercharged with action and romance in McDonald's visually arresting style.

Today, people are no longer embarrassed or ashamed about believing in the extraterrestrial. Leaders around the world agree that Earth has been visited by aliens. The Pentagon even runs a top secret $22 million UFO Task Force. Recently, Haim Eshed, former head of Israel's Defense Ministry space directorate, made headlines claiming to be in communication with a UFO. "The Unidentified Flying Objects have asked not to publish that they are here—humanity is not ready yet," Eshed says. Kerry McDonald thinks we are.

The Green Cathedral opens with a crash landing of an alien spacecraft in the stunning rainforest of Costa Rica. According to the New York Times, the United States Air Force investigated more than 12,000 UFO sightings between 1947 and 1969, and 701 of those remain unexplained. McDonald explores an unexplainable UFO phenomenon, and introduces a beautiful alien woman who has developed a deep connection with nature. In a world immersed in crime and violence, nature offers the only escape. Can the extraterrestrials be here to remind humanity what it has?

As a DEA agent caught in an unwinnable drug war, Abel has spent his life with the ugliest side of humanity. It's no wonder he's given in to corruption, bribery, and an illegal side hustle that has him on the run from some of the most dangerous men in South America. Then, he stumbles upon an abandoned alien girl who has made a home under the green canopy of the deepest part of the jungle. Her space craft crash-landed a decade ago; his life crashed and burned well before that.

But as this unlikely pair grow closer, Abel will realize that his dark past has tracked him down and threatens to destroy the very beauty he has fallen in love with.

Kerry McDonald delivers action, romance, and medicinal nature in The Green Cathedral. McDonald gives us hope to believe in love at first sight, and that nature has the ability to heal lost souls, even in the depths of the cartel.

If you liked Narcos and Avatar, you'll love this book.

"Non-stop action . . . a real flight and fight to the finish. Absolutely worth a read."
