'Manchester University Press are one of my favourite publishers to present to our customers. The quality of the writing and editing is as good, if not better, than other University presses, and what always impresses me is their ability to produce and market these books to a wider audience - these are the type of books that can change the world.'

Dave Kelly, Blackwell's Oxford

MUP is one of the few university presses that understands the importance of pricing correctly for the general reader. We've certainly noticed a greater awareness of their trade books through book reviews and publicity and I am sure we will continue to stock more of their titles.'
