

July 18, 2021

7. Who Is Your Neighbor — Luke 10:25-37

Last week I noted that Jesus elevated neighbor to “anyone who had need.” In Luke 10:29-37, when asked, “And who is my neighbor?” Jesus responded with the parable of the good Samaritan, where the above idea has its genesis. This week, I share a personal parable.

At an Aldi store in Punta Gorda, Florida: “Can you spare some money for lunch?” She looked like seven miles of gravel road. A terse thought: Not the first time she’s done this. Talking to her? What difference will that make? I’ve heard these routines before. Does that matter?

I listened to my better angels: “Hi. Mind telling me your story?” “What do you want to know?” “Whatever you want to tell me.” She told me: “I bought an old jeep in Michigan. Drove it here. Wiring shorted out. No one will help me. Can’t find work. Nowhere to live. Everything’s filled up because of the virus.” Has she really tried to find work? Does that matter?

I inquired about family. “Momma and Daddy’s both gone. I’m an only child. By myself, mostly.” Is she being honest? I noticed rotten teeth, scabs on skinny arms. Meth head? If I give her money for lunch, will she buy drugs? Does that matter?

“People act like I’m not here. ‘Specially those with nice cars.” I looked at our car. Nice car? “Those drivin’ Lexuses and Cadillacs are worst. Won’t look at me. Don’t care. Mostly I hang around, sleep around here. Sometimes restaurants give me food.” I noticed the cigarette in her hand, cell phone beside her. Does that matter?

“What’s your name?” “Angela.” “Angela, it’s too easy for me to say that I hope things work out and that God loves you. So I won’t say that. But I do want you to know that God is aware of you. God knows your name. And I sincerely hope things get better for you.”

Angela was fidgeting, tired of talking with me. Should I give her money? I did. Our conversation ended. Angela walked away.

What would you do? Did my response to a woman sitting on grocery store bench matter? I think it mattered to Angela . . . and maybe to Jesus, too.

—Ruben Chupp
rubenhome@outlook.com

Ruben Chupp of Nappanee, Indiana, is a spiritual director, chaplain, and retired pastor. His personal goals: “love God and the person in front of me at any given time; read some, write some, think some, pray some, and take a nap every day; love my wife, Idella, my children, and their children with all the grace I possess; and finally, get home before dark.”

Resources for this session

Salt & Light Videos

Jaye Lindo is the presenter for unit 2, Neighbors. These teaching videos are great for leader preparation or introducing each session. They are available on MennoMedia's YouTube channel. Jaye is the pastor of 7 Ways Home Fellowship, Bowie, Maryland.

Additional commentary for this session is available at:

<https://www.mennomedia.org/salt-light-supplements/>